

2022-2023

Local – PATH Center

McMaster Fellow

Sabrina Brown, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Environmental Science – The purpose of this project is to provide produce to the PATH Center Soup Kitchen, offering healthy alternatives to low-income residents of Defiance County, and work to support initiatives and outreach of the PATH Center through community-based research.

McMaster Associate Fellows

Mollie Sorrell, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Biology

James Sliwinski, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology

McMaster Scholars

Alivia Kruczkowski, Senior, Exercise Science: An educational resource guide on homelessness in Defiance, Ohio

Lily Linke, Senior, Biology: Creating affordable and accessible meals that combat food insecurity for Defiance College students and beyond

Olivia Rayk, Junior, Forensic Science & Biology: Creating affordable and accessible meals that combat food insecurity for Defiance College students and beyond

Autumn Saddler, Senior, Biology: Establishing a known soil quality around Defiance, Ohio to determine the best place for a future community-based garden

Brianna Snider, Senior, Exercise Science: Quality of life factors that influence the health of marginalized populations in Defiance, Ohio

Hallie Webb, Junior, Environmental Science, Restoration Ecology, & Biology: The effects of varied duration of supplemental LED lights on the mass and vitamin A content of carrots

McMaster Research Assistant

Mickenzie Blackburn: Creating affordable and accessible meals that combat food insecurity for Defiance College students and beyond